Year 5						Daffodils by Wilan Warburton I wandered lonely as a cloud That flits on high o'er vales and hills, Where at all times I see a crowd, A host, of golden daffodils, Beside the lake, beneath the trees, Fluttering and dancing in the breeze. Continuous as the stars that shine And twinkle on the milky way, They stretched in never-ending line Along the margin of a bay: Ten thousand saw I at a glance, Tossing their heads in sprightly dance. The waves beside them danced, but they Out-did the sparkling waves in glee: A poet could not see but they, In such a rapturous company, I gazed—and gazed—but little thought What wealth the show to me had brought: Far, far, when on my couch I lie In vacant or in pensive mood, They flash upon that inward eye, Which is the bliss of solitude; And then my heart with pleasure fills, And dances with the daffodils.
